Providence Over the Years

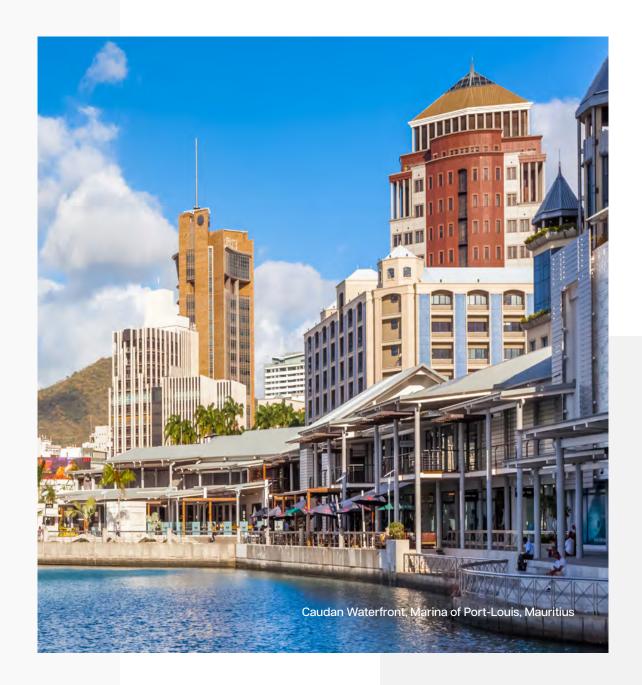

Over the last 15 years, our journey has been one of consistent growth, as we have built a global reputation for being a trusted partner to both policyholders and introducers.

Corporate Headquarters

Mauritius is supported by a robust regulatory framework that is benchmarked against international best practices. Its commitment is demonstrated through full implementation of the OECD Common Reporting Standard (CRS), compliance with Financial Action Task Force (FATF) recommendations, and its recognition on the OECD White List.

As a member of IOSCO and IAIS, and aligned with Basel Committee standards, the Mauritius Financial Services
Commission ensures our operations meet the highest levels of governance, transparency, and client protection.
This alignment with global standards provides the lasting confidence and security you need to recommend us to your clients.

Providence is structured as a Protected Cell Company (PCC).

PCC structure legally separates the assets and liabilities of each individual cell from both the company's core assets and those of other cells. This means that each product policy's assets are segregated, which directly protects every policyholder's interests. This ensures that each cell maintains its own separate accounting for its assets and liabilities.

The Financial Services Commission's (FSC) Insurance Act 2005 requires all companies it regulates to maintain a minimum level of capital adequacy. Providence's capital position significantly exceeds the minimum capital requirement, demonstrating our exceptional financial strength.

Why Mauritius

- Ever since their independence in 1968,
 Mauritius has evolved into a reputable and competitive global financial center.
- The country has a solid, stable reputation with an open, low-tax economy. It is rated Baa3 stable by Moody's (as of July 25, 2023).
- Mauritius offers a flexible low-tax environment with no inheritance or wealth tax. It has signed 44 Double Taxation Avoidance Agreements with countries across the world, including many in Africa and Europe.
- The country hosts several major international banks, including Standard Chartered, Investec Bank, HSBC, Bank of China, and Absa Bank (Barclays), reinforcing its status as a key financial center.
- Mauritius is a signatory to crucial agreements like the Africa Growth & Opportunity Act (a trade agreement between the U.S. and sub-Saharan countries), giving it a strategic position in global trade.

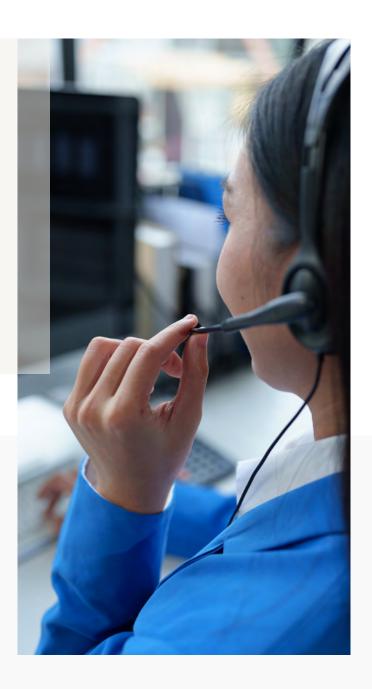

I've been a client of Providence for several years now, and have been very happy with the solution offered. It's easy to keep up to speed with your investment with their easy to use and informative platform.

The flexibility and transferability of their structure as an international client was what led me to select their structure initially, and I would be happy to recommend to others based on my experience so far.
